Educate Study

WORLD LEADER PROJECT

Challenging the myth of the naturally gifted speaker, the workshop comprises engaging exercises that teach primary school pupils the communication skills employed by politicians to engage an audience. The workshop is staged as a Children's World Change Summit to include 10 children from Manchester and 10 children from China.

Child candidates from inner city Manchester, whose lives will benefit from the ability to vote and campaign, will gain insight into the workings of government and women's contribution, plus the skills to make a difference to their world. The Children's World Change Summit provides an opportunity to direct media attention towards children who are actively interested in the current political state of the country and their world, to give them a platform for their views.

Using performance to engage the young people with politics, participants will create their own party-political broadcast.

Visit the Houses of Parliament for a tour including an exhibition of "209 Women" in Parliament. Followed by a presentation of their talks to Central Manchester MP Lucy Powell, Withington MP Jeff Smith and a female Member of The House of Lords.

Dear Educate Study

I am sorry I couldn't attend the World Leaders speech event this time, due to Brexit looming, which requires my attendance in numerous meetings, but I sincerely hope the children from Hunan and Manchester had an informative time about Parliament and politics.

I wish you all success in the rest of activities that lie ahead.
